- 1. The United Korean Front Command of the Chinese Communist Volunteers Army has established a War Tactics Research Bureau in the vicinity of P'yongyang. This organization gathers information on tactics and strategy at the Korean front and interrogates prisoners of war. The organization studies this information closely, then forwards it to the United Korean Front Command for reference in formulating military policy and strategy.
- 2. The War Tactics Research Bureau to organized into four offices. The first office studies strength of enemy forces. The second office studies the weapons used by enemy forces. The third office studies the tactics employed by enemy forces. The fourth office interrogates prisoners of war.
- 3. The War Tactics Research Bureau is 3 kilometers east of Taedong-gang, near P'yongyang, and is on the right of the P'yongyang-Maengsan Railway. It is situated inside a cave on P'yongchong-san (平 頂 山). P'yongchong-san is a solitary hill surrounded by plains, and is thickly overgrown with pine trees. River trenches have been dug around it. The internal dimensions of the cave occupied by the Research Bureau are 60 meters in length and 40 meters in width. This space is divided by ten partitions made of reinforced concrete.
